

The Nature of Man and Culture: Alternative Paradigms in Anthropology

By Baidyanath Saraswati

Indira Gandhi National Centre for the Arts/Aryan Books International, 2001. Hardcover. Book Condition: New. First edition. 18 x 25 cm. The Nature of Man and Culture is a response to the relentless search for alternative paradigms in anthropology. Presented here are contributions from a distinguished group of experts from India, Kenya, Korea, Venezuela, Mexico and USA. Anthropology based on the premises of a materialistic science does not answer but raises questions about man. As for secular Western science what is one to think? Are other modes of thinking possible outside the modern scientific horizon? Are there no visions of man, no other pillars of truth? Must everything be aided only by reason? Must an African, an Indian and a Chinese be uprooted from the nature-integrated culture? Can one observe the hidden variables of another culture? Do we have to follow the Darwinian - Tyiorian - Durkheimian - Morganian - Malinoiskian anthropology, with no real choice at all? Or do we look for a new understanding? To answer such central questions, the authors of this volume reflect on sacred science, space and time, experience and expression, and question of universality. An effort has been made to `re-language` traditional thought in terms...
