Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from How Paper Is Made: A Primer of Information About the Materials and Processes of Manufacturing Paper for Printing and Writing When mankind discovered the art of embodying its knowledge in writing progress toward civilization began. The preservation of the discoveries and acquirements of one generation for the enlightenment of succeeding generations, made possible through the art of writing, has enabled man to acquire an intellectual development that has gradually given to him mastery over the world. Primitive man began his groping for a written language with the making of pictures, crude and simple to be sure, but fairly representative of what they were supposed to stand for. From this humble beginning man gradually progressed upward in the search for expressive signs and marks, the passing generations recording their deeds in ancient pictures, sound marks, hieroglyphics, cuneiform marks, syllabary signs, etc., until they reached the ancient Ph nician alphabet, and still following an upward course gradually evolved the Greek alphabet and then the Roman, which, with very little change, is our alphabet of today. Obviously, early writing materials were as crude as the writing itself, and consequently we find that the surface of a stone, a bone, or a shell, a flat piece of wood, bark or leaf of a tree, a plate of metal, the facet of a gem, any one of a thousand things that could be used was employed for this purpose. The Egyptians and Greeks were in the habit of using even the fragments of broken pottery for their less important records. But the materials most used before the invention of paper were the Assyrian clay tablet, papyrus, and vellum. About the...
